

Ottawa Official Garden Day – June 13, 2014

GGG RECOGNISED AT THE FIRST OFFICIAL GARDEN DAY

His worship Jim Watson, Mayor of the City of Ottawa, officially proclaimed Friday June 13, 2014 as the first official Garden Day in Ottawa. Ottawa's official Garden Day celebrates our community's garden culture and heritage and our local horticultural industry. Certificates of Recognition were given to approximately 24 volunteer gardening groups and businesses that provided volunteer services to various gardens in the City.

The Greely Gardeners Group (GGG) was recognised for the work that we undertake in maintaining the Greely Community Centre and Greely Library gardens. Five members of the GGG were on hand at the ceremony to receive the certificate. They are pictured below along with the dignitaries at the ceremony. Many thanks go to all the GGG members and Executive Committee who have come out over the years to work on the Greely Community Centre and Greely.

From left to right:

Gary Hall (Past President GGG); Ed Hanson (the President of the Ottawa Chapter of Landscape Ontario); Elaine Routledge (GGG Speaker Coordinator); Mayor Jim Watson; Councillor Doug Thompson; Heather Clemenson (GGG Newsletter Editor); Ed Lawrence (special guest); Melissa MacDonald (GGG member); Sue Young (Member at Large, GGG Executive Committee).